

Bangkirai

Bangkirai is product of a single species of Shorea. This originates from a group of heavy hardwoods growing throughout Malaysia and Indonesia.

There is little distinction in colour between heartwood and sapwood which is a pale golden-brown. The texture is medium to fine and the grain is interlocked.

Bangkirai can prove difficult to be worked but has the ability to be worked well to obtain a smooth and defined profile.

Popular uses for Bangkirai are marine decking / walkways, heavy construction, bridge components and lock gates.

Legally certified material readily available.

Bangkirai / Yellow Balau / Selangan Batu
Durability	Durable - very durable
Strength	D70
Density	980kg / m ³
Colour	Yellow brown
Grain	Straight & interlocked
Texture	Medium
Drying	Slow
Machining	Difficult
Screwing / Nailing	Pre-boring required
Botanical Name	Shorea Glavea / Laevis
Origin	Malaysia & Indonesia

Available Sizes
21mm x 93mm 21mm x 145mm 28mm x 145mm 45mm x 95mm

21mm x 93mm Decking Profile

21mm x 93mm Decking Profile

28mm x 145mm Decking Profile

21mm x 145mm Decking Profile

45mm x 95mm Fender Face

45mm x 95mm Fender Profile

45mm x 95mm Rebated Fender Profile